GLOBAL TRADE INVEST LIMITED · WEBSITE LEGAL

Website Terms of Use

Public Website | Version PRE-LAUNCH | Effective: Controlled working copy

This public legal document forms part of the corporate and website documentation of GLOBAL FIX BOND. Programme-specific Transaction Documents are provided separately to admitted prospective and actual investors through authorised channels or the secure Investor Portal.

1. Scope and acceptance

These Website Terms of Use govern the public GLOBAL FIX BOND website, public document downloads, contact functionality and other website services made available by GLOBAL TRADE INVEST LIMITED (the "Company", "Issuer", "we" or "us"). They are separate from and do not replace any private-offering or Transaction Document.

By using the website you agree to use it lawfully and in accordance with these Website Terms. Access to the authenticated Investor Portal is additionally subject to account-security, onboarding, Programme and Transaction Document requirements.

2. Website operator and contact

The website is operated by GLOBAL TRADE INVEST LIMITED, company number 06874711, registered office 167-169 Great Portland Street, 5th Floor, London W1W 5PF, United Kingdom. Investor enquiries: investors@globalfix.bond. Privacy enquiries: privacy@globalfix.bond.

Do not send passwords, authenticator codes, private keys, seed phrases, recovery codes or other secret credentials by email.

3. Private offering - no public offer

The public website provides general corporate, operational and Programme information only. Nothing on it constitutes a public offer, prospectus, public solicitation, investment recommendation, personal recommendation or invitation to subscribe for Notes.

GLOBAL FIX BOND 2026 is available only through a controlled private-offering process to selected prospective investors admitted to onboarding and provided with the applicable controlled Transaction Documents. Public website access does not create eligibility, an allocation or a right to subscribe.

4. No investment, legal, tax or accounting advice

Website content is general information and is not investment, legal, tax, accounting, suitability, regulatory or other professional advice. It does not take account of any person's objectives, financial situation, experience, tax residence, legal status or risk tolerance.

Any person considering a transaction remains responsible for their own decision and may obtain independent professional advice.

5. Transaction Documents and priority

Subscriptions, Notes, Series, Subscription Lots, payments, contractual accrual, redemptions, Issuer Calls, investor representations, fees, transfer restrictions and other Programme rights and obligations are governed exclusively by the applicable Transaction Documents and the Official Note Register.

If any public website statement, FAQ, illustration, calculator or Portal summary conflicts with a controlling Transaction Document or Official Note Register entry, the controlling record prevails, subject to correction of manifest error.

6. Restricted access, KYC and account security

Private materials and the Investor Portal are restricted to authorised users. We may require identity, corporate-authority, KYC/AML, sanctions, PEP, Source of Funds, Source of Wealth, tax, bank-account, beneficial-ownership or other verification before granting or continuing access.

Accounts are personal and must not be shared. First-time Portal access is invitation-only and uses a dedicated account-activation process in which the authorised invitee creates a password and completes mandatory multi-factor authentication before entering protected areas. Ordinary sign-in is for activated accounts. Renewed authentication may be required before sensitive actions, and we may suspend access for security, compliance, legal, fraud-prevention or operational reasons.

7. Sensitive instructions and anti-fraud controls

Payment, bank-account, redemption and profile-change instructions may be subject to step-up authentication, email confirmation, manual review, callback, documentary verification or a cooling-off period. These controls may delay completion.

Unexpected payment-detail changes should be independently verified through an authorised channel. Sales Persons, Introducers and Family Offices are not authorised to receive investor funds, change binding Transaction Documents or request secret authentication credentials.

8. Electronic communications and records

Operational, security, onboarding, KYC, funding, subscription, document-room, redemption and servicing communications may be delivered electronically. Authenticated Portal submissions, email confirmations, electronic acknowledgements, timestamps, audit events and controlled electronic documents may form part of the Programme record.

Users are responsible for maintaining access to their registered email address and for using the approved profile-change process when details change.

9. Availability, accuracy, errors and corrections

We aim to maintain reliable and secure services but do not guarantee uninterrupted, error-free or continuous availability. Maintenance, cybersecurity events, telecommunications failures, third-party outages, legal requirements or other circumstances may affect availability.

Public website content may be simplified, delayed, incomplete, become outdated or contain inadvertent typographical, formatting, calculation, presentation or transmission errors. We may correct, update, replace, suspend or withdraw public content or functionality at any time where permitted by law. Transaction-specific matters should be checked against the applicable controlled Transaction Documents and authenticated records.

A correction or change to public website content does not by itself amend the terms of an issued Note, alter the Official Note Register or waive any controlling contractual requirement. Nothing in these Website Terms excludes or limits liability or rights that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited, including liability for fraud or other mandatory statutory protections where applicable.

10. Acceptable use and intellectual property

Users must not attempt unauthorised access, bypass security controls, introduce malware, impersonate another person, scrape restricted information, interfere with audit records or use the website or Portal to facilitate fraud or other unlawful conduct.

Website design, branding, text, graphics, software, databases and document presentation are owned by or licensed to GLOBAL TRADE INVEST LIMITED unless otherwise stated. Public materials may be used for lawful personal, professional-advisory or internal evaluation purposes where download is expressly enabled.

11. Third-party services, cybersecurity and liability

The website and Portal may depend on independent hosting, authentication, cloud, banking, verification, communications, blockchain or professional service providers. Their services may be subject to separate terms and privacy notices.

No internet service is completely secure. Subject to mandatory law, we are not responsible for loss caused solely by reliance on a general public summary instead of controlling Transaction Documents, by unauthorised credential sharing, compromised user devices, malicious third-party communications or events outside our reasonable control. Programme-specific liability is governed separately by the applicable Transaction Documents.

12. Complaints, regulatory signposting and mandatory rights

Service, onboarding, Programme and website complaints may be sent to investors@globalfix.bond. Privacy and data-rights concerns may be sent to privacy@globalfix.bond. Our Regulatory Status & Complaints page provides general signposting to external authorities and recognised complaint mechanisms that may be relevant depending on the facts, jurisdiction and regulatory perimeter.

Company registration in England and Wales is not financial-regulatory authorisation. Nothing on this website is intended to imply supervision or authorisation of the Issuer by the UK Financial Conduct Authority or the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA unless this is expressly stated for a specific activity or party in controlled documentation.

External complaint, ombudsman, supervisory, civil or criminal routes depend on the specific facts and applicable law. Nothing in these Website Terms limits any mandatory right to contact a competent authority, bring a claim, report suspected unlawful conduct or exercise statutory data-protection rights.

13. Amendments, governing law and contact

We may update these Website Terms to reflect legal, regulatory, security, operational or technology changes. The current version and effective date will be published here. Changes to these Website Terms do not by themselves amend the terms of an issued Note.

These public Website Terms and non-contractual obligations arising from public website use are governed by the laws of England and Wales unless mandatory law requires otherwise. The courts of England and Wales have non-exclusive jurisdiction for these Website Terms. Separate governing-law and jurisdiction provisions in Transaction Documents remain unaffected.
