Website Terms of Use

Public Website | Version 1.0 | Last updated: 22 September 2026

This public legal document forms part of the corporate and website documentation of GLOBAL FIX BOND. Programme-specific Transaction Documents are provided separately to admitted prospective and actual investors through authorised channels or the secure Investor Portal.

1. About these Website Terms

These Website Terms of Use govern access to and use of the public GLOBAL FIX BOND website and, where relevant, general website functionality made available by GLOBAL TRADE INVEST LIMITED (the "Company", "Issuer", "we" or "us"). They are separate from the Programme offering documents and do not replace, amend or override any Transaction Document.

By using this website you agree to use it lawfully and in accordance with these Website Terms. If you access the Investor Portal, additional contractual, security and Programme-specific terms may apply.

2. Private-offering website - no public offer

The public website is provided for general corporate and Programme information. Nothing on it constitutes a public offer, public solicitation, investment recommendation, personal recommendation, financial promotion directed to the public, or invitation to subscribe for Notes.

GLOBAL FIX BOND 2026 is available only through a controlled private-offering process to selected prospective investors who are admitted to the onboarding process and provided with the applicable Transaction Documents.

3. No investment, legal or tax advice

Website content is not investment, portfolio-management, legal, tax, accounting or other professional advice and must not be relied upon as such. Information is presented on a general basis and does not take account of any person's objectives, financial situation, knowledge, experience or tax position.

Prospective investors remain responsible for their own decision and may obtain independent professional advice before proceeding.

4. Programme documents and priority

Any subscription, Note, payment, redemption, Issuer Call, investor representation, risk allocation or other Programme right or obligation is governed exclusively by the applicable Transaction Documents and the Official Note Register.

If any public website summary differs from a Transaction Document, the applicable Transaction Document prevails. Public website content is intentionally abbreviated and should not be treated as a complete description of the Programme.

5. Eligibility and access

Access to private materials and the Investor Portal is restricted to authorised users. Public self-registration is not available. We may require identity, KYC/AML, sanctions, source-of-funds, source-of-wealth, corporate authority or other verification before granting or continuing access.

We may suspend, restrict or terminate access where reasonably required for security, compliance, legal, operational or fraud-prevention reasons.

6. Account security and MFA

User accounts are individual and must not be shared. Users are responsible for protecting passwords, devices and authentication factors and for notifying us promptly if they suspect unauthorised access, phishing, compromised credentials or misuse.

Multi-factor authentication may be mandatory. We will never ask a user by ordinary email or messaging application to disclose a full password, authenticator code, private key or recovery credential.

7. Electronic communications and records

Users may receive operational, security, onboarding, KYC, subscription, document-room and servicing communications electronically. Portal confirmations, authenticated submissions, timestamps, audit records and controlled electronic documents may form part of the Programme record.

The Investor Portal supports administration and evidence. Legal title to Notes is determined by the Official Note Register and the applicable Transaction Documents.

8. Website availability and changes

We aim to maintain reliable access but do not guarantee that the website or Portal will always be uninterrupted, error-free or available. Maintenance, cybersecurity events, telecommunications failures, third-party outages or legal requirements may affect availability.

We may update, suspend or change website content and functionality where reasonably required. Material Programme changes are governed separately by the Transaction Documents.

9. Intellectual property and permitted use

Unless otherwise stated, website design, text, branding, graphics, software, document presentation and other content are owned by or licensed to GLOBAL TRADE INVEST LIMITED. Content may be viewed and, where expressly enabled, downloaded for the user's own lawful evaluation or administration of the Programme.

Unauthorised reproduction, redistribution, commercial exploitation, scraping, reverse engineering, impersonation or use of the website to mislead third parties is prohibited.

10. Third-party services and links

The website or Portal may rely on or link to independent service providers, including hosting, authentication, banking, professional, verification or communication providers. A link or technical integration does not make us responsible for an independent provider's systems, content or separate legal obligations.

Independent providers may apply their own terms and privacy notices.

11. Liability

Nothing in these Website Terms excludes liability that cannot lawfully be excluded. Subject to mandatory law, we are not responsible for loss arising solely from reliance on general public website summaries instead of the applicable Transaction Documents, or from misuse of credentials, unsupported devices, third-party systems or unauthorised communications.

Programme-specific liability, limitations and remedies are governed by the applicable Transaction Documents.

12. Contact and updates

Website and investor enquiries may be sent to investors@globalfix.bond. We may amend these Website Terms from time to time. The current version and revision date will be published on this page.

These Website Terms do not alter the governing-law and jurisdiction provisions contained in the applicable Transaction Documents.
